Extension Housing Specialist Evelyn Severson will continue Housing Short Course Training on October 13-14.

Miss Severson will be presenting the lessons at the Agricultural Extension Office conference room located in the County Courthouse. Miss Severson will discuss "Kitchen Cabinet Design" Thursday, October 13, 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m. Friday from 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. the specialist will offer training on "Space Design for Utility Areas and Bathrooms". The afternoon lesson from 12:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m. will be on "Space Design for Bedrooms and Storage Facilities."

Participants will need a ruler and pencil. The local Extension Agents Calvin Caldwell and Dolores McBride report this training would be excellent for families in the area planning to build or remodel. For further information call PRospect 7-5771.

Approximately 1.5 million persons died during a famine in Bengal, India, as recently as 1943, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Teaches Finance by Telephone

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Prof. Harold Groves gets through to his students, by telephone.

Groves, a specialist in public finance who teaches an economics course at the University of Wisconsin, had been told by his physician to stay in bed as a result of a slight heart attack Sept. 12.

He resumed his lectures recently using a telephone hookup linking his home and his lecture hall.

Force Can't Win, Avows Nat'l China

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Nationalist China declared today that peace will not be restored in Viet Nam "until the Communist aggressors are convinced that they cannot win by force."

"At present they are not so convinced," Ambassador Lacy prepared for delivery before the 119-nation U.N. General Assembly. "On the contrary, they believe that they are already half way to victory."

Liu asserted that neither North Viet Nam nor Red China wants a political solution in Viet Nam. "The only language they understand is the language of force and violence," he declared.

Viet Nam was the chief topic discussed in a 50-minute meeting late Tuesday between British Foreign Secretary George Brown and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Brown told newsmen the talk was "very very good and friendly and very frank, and I mean very frank."

It was the second meeting for the two ministers in three days. At their first, on Saturday, Gromyko turned down Brown's proposal that Britain and the Soviet Union as cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina reconvene the parley to get peace negotiations going on Viet Nam. Informed sources said Gromyko didn't change his position Tuesday.

Whooping Crane Takes a Plane

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Canus, the crane, flew to a Maryland wildlife preserve recently, but went by plane.

The whooper is one of only about 56 left in the world. Recently, a wing was amputated at a U.S. Wildlife Service station near here following an accident.

Viet Nam No Election Issue Yet

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — With less than a month of campaigning left, strategists of both parties are admitting privately they haven't found the Viet Nam war to be a congressional election issue.

Most candidates interrupting their campaigning to check in now and then for major Senate and House roll calls report the voters are disturbed about the ever-enlarging conflict and frustrated by the apparent failure of peace efforts.

But how the average citizen will react to this at the polls Nov. 8 remains largely a mystery. One Democratic senator, seeking re-election, seemed to voice the sentiment of many of his colleagues.

"I know the people wish we didn't have this war on our hands and wonder why we ever got into it," he said. "They'd like to have it end but not many of them want to cut and run. I think most of them believe President Johnson is doing the best he can."

"My opponent hasn't found any way yet to blame me for the war and as far as I can tell it isn't an issue that will affect many votes one way or the other."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has cautioned fellow Republicans against trying to make an issue of administration policy in Viet Nam. He feels that in war Americans ought to stand squarely behind the commander in chief — the only person, he says, who ultimately can call the signals on broad policy and grand strategy.

Johnson told a Newark, N.J., political rally last Friday that Republicans "don't know how to end the war in Viet Nam, except to criticize the commander in chief." While they don't admit it publicly, GOP campaigners generally acknowledge that is a fairly accurate description of their position.

Eisenhower says domestic issues such as government spending and inflation offer GOP candidates much better opportunity to capitalize at the polls.

Minor Ills Take Marines From Fighting

By JOHN LENGEL
DONG HA, South Viet Nam (AP) — An assortment of comparatively minor ill is taking Marines from the field as surely as workers are kept from the factory and children from school.

Medical men at an advanced field hospital near the demilitarized zone say an average of five Marines a day are evacuated with scrapes, breaks and maladies either aggravated by the tropical climate or caused by carelessness.

After five to seven days of treatment the men are usually well enough to return to combat, the doctors say.

A typical Marine must stay on his toes.

He can slip jumping from a helicopter or climbing a muddy trail. Under 50 pounds of pack and weapons, this could mean a strain or badly wrenched knee. A brush against a thorny vine or elephant grass slashes the clothes or cuts the skin.

"They're dirty, real dirty. After two days in the field the bacteria count on their skin is tremendous. Minor cuts get badly infected," a doctor said.

If the Marine fails to pace himself, he faces exhaustion or possible heatstroke.

Infection lurks in the water the trooper splashes through. "The water is contaminated by human feces, and corpses a lot of the time, too. This infects and aggravates athletes foot and ingrown toe nails. A Marine should take his boots off at night to help things," the doctor says.

A drink of bad water almost certainly causes worms in the stomach, as well as diarrhea.

Even if the Marine keeps fit and clean, he runs the danger of contracting the commonest of tropical diseases, malaria.

Rice Crop Estimate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas' rice crop with total 20,812,000 hundredweight with a yield of 4,400 pounds per acre, the Agriculture Department predicted Tuesday.

The department estimated this year's soybean for beans production in Arkansas at 79,971,000 bushels, a yield of 23 bushels per acre.

The state's production for the year of corn for grain was estimated at 2,635,000 bushels, a yield of 31 bushels per acre, and the Arkansas peach crop will be one million bushels, the department predicted.

WCSO OF THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The union meeting of the WCSO of the First Methodist Church was held Monday, Oct. 10 at 2 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

The service was opened with the singing of the hymn, "He Leadeth Me" and the prayer was lead by Mrs. Harry McLeMore, President.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Bob Turner and approved by the society.

It was announced that the Week of Prayer and Self Denial would be October 24 through Oct. 28 each morning at 9:30 a.m. in the sanctuary.

The society voted to have the union meetings at the church the first Monday of each month, with the circles to meet the second Monday. These changes will become effective in November.

Circle 1, Mrs. Johnnie Greene, chairman introduced the program with Mrs. Steven Bader giving the devotional and Mrs. Albert Graves presenting the program.

The meeting closed with the Benediction.

BROWNIE TROOP 166 MEETS

Girl Scout Brownie Troop 166 met Monday, October 10 in the Little Hut. Officers elected for October were: President Donna Rowe, Vice President Dana Flowers, Secretary Linda Hicks, Treasurer Raelaine Jordan and Reporter Donna Tunstall. Leaders are Mrs. Dale Flowers and Mrs. Donal Parker.

ROSE GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Rose Garden Club met on Friday, October 7 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Garrett Story. Mrs. Douglas Drake was co-hostess. After the group had repeated the Club Collect in unison, the president, Mrs. J. S. Gibson, had a brief business session.

Mrs. Gibson was also in charge of an interesting program on fall flower arrangements. Those bringing fall arrangements for discussion were Mrs. Harry Shiver, Mrs. Carl Bramlett, and Mrs. Olaf Luck.

To raise money within the club plants from the Green Box were sold. Dessert and coffee were served for refreshments.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB

Master Point Night for the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club was held at the Hope Country Club on Monday, October 10 with three tables of players. Winning couples were:

First, Mike Kelly and Mrs. E. Young, Jr.; second, Mrs. Marie C. Hendrix and Mrs. Taylor Stuart, third, Dr. George Wright and R. L. Broach; fourth, Mrs. Lloyd Spencer and Mrs. Bill Wray.

Dear Helen: I read the letter from "Free in Utopia" and I couldn't agree with her more, on the subject of living with the person you love regardless of a wedding ceremony.

The point about maturity and outlook is the main thing. You have to be sure it is right for you—the best solution. My boyfriend and I are still in college. We started later than most and it will be four years before we can consider marriage. We both know that sex is only a part of love, but we feel it is an expression of love to be shared. Our mental attitude is healthy and untroubled by conscience.

This is one individual's opinion and I know you and others do not agree with me. But it is a decision adult persons must make for themselves and I do not think society should do it for us. — Individual Thinker

Dear Thinker: When I hear arguments like yours I'm reminded of the boy who shortcuts through a flower garden saying, "I'm careful see? I don't hurt anything." But if everyone followed his lead, soon there would be nothing left but dirt. What would happen to marriage and the family if everyone decided to trample down society's rules? Let's hope you "Free in Utopians" don't start a stampede you'll bitterly regret someday. — H.

Dear Helen: Thank you for disagreeing with "Free in Utopia." If adults are going to take the attitude that sex before marriage is wrong for teens but right for adults, where is it going to lead? God made rules for our own good, not just to make it harder on us. He knew that no rules at all would make a mess of the world. An unprincipled, undisciplined nation won't last. — D. H.

WARMER: New manufacturing techniques make crib blankets 20 per cent warmer while remaining extra light. Blanket is made by thermal lock process with acrylic fibers punched through a nylon base fabric. These are interlocked and intertwined to create small air cells. The result is a thicker blanket and added warmth through the insulating air cells. In traditional nursery colors, the blanket with a nylon satin binding is $7.95 for a 40x60-inch size.

We are not sure how it happened but all of a sudden we find ourselves in the fourth quarter of the year 1966 with about two-thirds of the things we planned to do ... undone.

Thank goodness there is still time for a few of them and one is particular that we like best of all. The month of October is designated as ... "Be Kind To Customers Month". It is our privilege and pleasure to give all customers the kindness and consideration they deserve and we have alerted the whole sales force to do the same. If, during this whole month you come to Raley's Style Shoppe and are not awarded with a smile and helpful attention on the part of each and everyone of us, report it. You will be rewarded!

And while you are here we do hope you will not hold it against us because you are not unable to resist the beautiful merchandise!

The richly furled, lush colored imported fabric coats designed by Crestmoor are in stock. You will love the swing and sway of the hemlines, the millium backed, satin linings, the sleeve lengths that allow you to wear long or short gloves ... in short you will love a Crestmoor! We have them exclusively in Hope and we would love to share....

For the ultimate in styling and simplicity, try on a Carlye dress. Expensive? Somewhat...but not when you consider the investment. Wear them ANYWHERE with ease and poise, knowing you look strikingly different.

These and many more await the customer who likes service... we hope to be seeing you at

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This season's television audience likes best the established series of past years and old movies, often at the expense of a lot of new shows.

This seems evident with the publication of the first significant Nielsen ratings of the current season Monday which covered the viewing choices during the two weeks ending Sept. 25 when the three networks were all broadcasting their new shows and old shows with fresh material.

The new list, projected from a national audience sample of some 1,200 homes, gives some strong clues about reception of new shows although it is considered by the industry to be a preliminary report. The Nielsen report which networks and sponsors will consider to be critical will come early in November, after audiences have built new viewing habits after sampling all network wares.

ABC's "Rat Patrol," is the only new series to make the top 10, which pretty well establishes it as a hit. Three others — CBS' "Family Affair," ABC's "Felonny Squad" and NBC's "Occasional Wife" — got into the top 20 list.

But 25 of 34 new series were in the lower half of a list of 90 shows, and 19 of these built ratings which, if unimproved later, makes them logical candidates for midseason replacement.

Among the shows receiving particularly unimpressive receptions were ABC's "Stage 67," "Shane," "Hawk" and "Milton Berle Show," CBS' "Garry Moore Show" and NBC's "Herc," "Hey, Landlord" and "Roger Miller Show."

Network television's current infatuation with feature movies is understandable. There are currently five two-hour blocks devoted to movie reruns during the week — and all five built up powerful Nielsen scores that landed them among the top 25 shows. ABC's broadcast of "Bridge on the River Kwai" was a blockbuster that occupied the network's usual two-hour movie spot and then some, led the hit parade of all shows.

Most shows that were popular last season continued their winning ways, although "Batman" appears to have lost some of its appeal, dropping from a top 10 spot last season to 34th on the new list. "Gilligan's Island" and "I've Got a Secret" are both in new time spots this season and seem to have gotten lost in the shuffle, but "Gomer Pyle," also switched, continues to be a strong attraction.

THE CHERRY IN THE MARTINI. By Rona Jaffe. Simon & Schuster, $4.50.

There is a striking journey through childhood and adolescence in the author's recollections of the emotional stresses of her early life.

The book is autobiographical, but not in the literal sense. Miss Jaffe's foreword says "None of this may be the way it happened, but it's the way I remember it."

She tells first of the interplay between the real world and a dream world in which she lived until she left grade school at the precocious age of 11. In hindsight, she realizes that she was an incipient schizophrenic, who luckily went through a natural cure.

In her high school days she suffered through one of those unrequited crushes on an older girl, and later an infatuation with a stage personality, who had no idea of her adulation.

Then in college she thought she was in love with a boy who secretly noticed her, and fell into a platonic friendship with another boy who was unlucky in love.

At the end of the book there is an episode, written in the third person, about a 34-year-old woman having an affair with a film actor. It is up to the reader to figure out what connection there might be between this narrative and the rest of the book.

The most effective passages are those which describe the ways in which children torment each other and secretly do battle against their parents. They are highly charged emotionally and record vividly a young girl's responses to the pressures of growing up.

Figures the Longhorns to Beat Arkansas

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP) — Another roll of the football dice, the kind that come up with seven points — like in a touchdown — every time.

Last week there were too many snake eyes for a .667 average.

This week's picks: Michigan State over Ohio State. Because Bob Apist, Bubba Smith and Jimmy Raye all play for the Spartans.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: Jim Seymour and Terry Hanratty, the sophomore battery, are making the Irish contenders for national honors.

Alabama over Tennessee: The Crimson Tide has yielded one touchdown but has won all three of its games. Tennessee hasn't given up a single touchdown but has lost one of three games. With pure illogical reasoning, Alabama.

South California over Stanford: Far too many Trojans.

Nebraska over Kansas State: Harry Wilson is the reason.

UCLA over Penn State: The Pennsylvanians will discover that Gary Beban has a lot of competent helpers.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: The Engineers beat Tennessee last Saturday although the Volunteers had the better statistics, so there is no reason for them being on Cloud 9 for this one.

Florida over North Carolina State: Steve Spurrier will keep the Gators on the unbeaten list.

Purdue over Michigan: The Boilermakers' only loss has been to Notre Dame, and Bob Griese won't allow another stain on the record.

Air Force over Oregon: The fly boys are really flying.

Texas over Arkansas: Both teams were upset last Saturday but the Texans, playing before the home folks, will recover quickly.

Miami over Georgia: In the dark of the night, too.

Houston over Mississippi State: Warren McVea, the Houston speedster, is living up to all his press clippings.

Syracuse over Boston College: Even if Syracuse has to play without Floyd Little it should have enough to sneak past the Bostonians.

Mira Plays Best Against the Packers
NEW YORK (AP) — Something about the Green Bay Packers brings out the best in George Mira, the only quarterback in the National Football League with a perfect record against the champions.

Mira beat Green Bay in his rookie year, 1964 and lost to Dallas last season in two previous starts. With John (Million Dollar Arm) Brodie having his troubles, Coach Jack Christensen decided to give Mira the third starting chance of his pro career last Sunday.

The former University of Miami star scrambled 38 yards on a run that set up the decisive touchdown against the Packers in a 21-20 victory and also threw two TD passes.

Although other quarterbacks made more spectacular yardage and hit for more scores, Mira's performance as a No. 2 boy getting a chance to start against Green Bay, earned recognition as The Associated Press' offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Mira completed nine of 21 for 104 yards, including scoring passes of 27 and eight to John David Crow, and ran for 46 yards on three carries.

"Mira kept us loose all day," Coach Jack Christensen said. "The way he was running people will be asking me to make a halfback out of him."

Bobcats Go Against the Cardinals

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star Sports Writer

The Bobcats will be out to regain some of their self respect this Friday night as they play host to the Fairview Cardinals after a humiliating 34-0 loss at the hands of Crossett last week.

Although Crossett is ranked fourth state wide as well as first in the state's Class A-1, so convincing a defeat is always embarrassing to the losing team no matter how good the other team is.

But the worst is past now and the Cats can look forward to their closing five games with teams more nearly their class.

This week the Cats set their sights for Fairview with hopes of knocking the Cardinals out of contention for the District 4AA Championship.

Fairview boasts a conference record of two wins and only one loss while the Bobcats have sagged to a 2-2 record. But there is a difference. Hope has played the two district powerhouses in Crossett and Malvern while the Cardinals have yet to meet either.

Comparing season performances with mutual opponents gives the Bobcats the edge. Probably the most noticeable comparison is the Cardinals' 14-13 edge over DeQueen. Hope routed the Leopards 27-7. Fairview also holds wins over conference foes, Warren and Smackover. Their only conference loss was to Camden early in the season.

The Bobcats pulled last year's contest out by a single point in the last half of play. The Cardinals had a convincing lead over the Cats at halftime, 13-0. But the Bobcats came storming out of the dressing room after intermission to overcome Fairview, 14-13.

The opening kickoff is slated for 7:30 with the pregame program beginning at 7:15 at Hammons Stadium.

Competition is sponsored by Hope Auto Company, with City Parks & Recreation Dept. as co-sponsor. The program, in which 715,817 boys took part last year, is sponsored nationally by Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League.

HOW DO THEY FLY
NEW DELHI (AP) — In response to a question, Aviator minister C.M. Poonacha told Parliament the government could NOT at this time provide a flying club in Salem, in southern India, with an airstrip.

"How then does the club operate?" asked Arjun Arora, a member of Parliament. "Do they fly aircraft or kites?"

Poonacha asked for time to study the situation before replying again.

Atlanta Told the Braves Can Stay

By JAMES R. POLK
MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The South, loser for 111 years, has emerged a victor in the Civil War over baseball.

Atlanta was told Tuesday it could keep baseball's disputed Braves as Wisconsin turned to the U.S. Supreme Court in a bid to restore the sport to Milwaukee through expansion.

The triumph was trumpeted by two sentences in a hazy, hidden footnote at the bottom of the 13th page of Wisconsin's 38-page plea to the nation's highest court to hear the case.

The footnote, State Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said, meant Wisconsin is now asking only that Milwaukee be included in expansion plans for the (National) League.

The Boston-to-Milwaukee-to-Atlanta Braves, baseball's longest double play, went south for 1966 after 13 seasons in Milwaukee. Atlanta embraced them with 1.5 million fans, nearly treble the total turnout for their listless lame duck year in the North.

Baseball's abandonment of Milwaukee, first city to be deserted completely by the major leagues since 1903, led to the antitrust conviction in April that was overturned in a 4-3 vote by Wisconsin's own Supreme Court three months later.

The Milwaukee judge who returned the original conviction against the National League and its 10 clubs had ordered the Braves brought back from Atlanta if Wisconsin was not awarded a 1967 expansion team.

The brief footnote to the appeal Tuesday acknowledged that the suit at first "originally alleged" the Braves' move to Atlanta was illegal, but conceded that the State Supreme Court had decided it would never order the team to return because of reasons of state law.

Only federal issues may be argued before the U.S. Supreme Court. The reluctant surrender under state law freed the Braves forever to remain in Atlanta.

Broyles Sees Improved Pass Defense

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday that the Razorback pass defense was improving every week.

The Poorckers went through hour and a half of contact work in preparation for Saturday's Southwest Conference game with Texas at Austin.

For the first time in 10 years, both Arkansas and Texas will be seeking to come back from a defeat suffered the previous week. Oklahoma stopped the Longhorns 18-9 and Baylor ended Arkansas' regular-season magic 7-0.

Harding Back Work Horse in the AIC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Howard, Harding College's workhorse halfback who is averaging 25 carries per game, has taken the conference rushing lead, according to Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference statistics released today.

Howard has picked up 368 yards on 100 carries for the once-beaten Bisons. He was an all-AIC back last year.

Gary Tate, Arkansas A&M freshman quarterback, continues to set the pace in passing and total offense, with 495 yards on 29 completions and 167 yards in rushing.

In the pass receiving department, Arkansas Tech's Wynton Norwood is the leader with 19 receptions and 141 yards; Harry Lisle of Harding leads punt returners with a 14.6 average on 15 tries; and Arkie Floyd of Henderson is the top kickoff returner with a 22.1 yard average on seven returns.

A&M's Dickie Dunn has the best punting average, 40.9 yards on 28 kicks and Jim Leonard and Travis Giles, both of Southern State, are the leading scorers with 30 points each.

Egad, friends, your deluge of congratulatory telegrams was embarrassing to a man possessed of my inherent modesty—hak-kaff!

Nevertheless it was heart-warming to hear from so many of you, especially following a weekend that saw most of the collegiate football experts reduced to the status of rotten-eggsperts—heh-heh! However, veteran followers of the Hoople System know there was nothing unusual about my correctly forecasting the colossal upset of Arkansas by Baylor, the Oklahoma triumph over favored Texas, or the Illinois 10-9 comeback victory over Ohio State—Har-rumph!

Incidentally, in the latter game, the final score was only two points away from our 10-7 forecast. (Ed. Note: Look out, Puffy, you'll explode.)

As a token of my appreciation for your complimentary messages, I have several goodies for you in this week's forecast.

In the tough Southeastern Conference's headline battle, I predict the Tennessee Vols will deal rugged Alabama its first defeat of the year, 16-14. At Ann Arbor, in the game which may decide the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl, watch for host Michigan to upset Purdue's Boilermakers, 28-20.

Other contests worthy of special note match Notre Dame and North Carolina, and Arkansas and Texas. Watch for well-rested North Carolina to give the Irish a stiff battle before succumbing, 25-22. The Arkansas Razorbacks will resume their winning ways with a hard-fought, 19-12 victory over Texas.

Now go on with the forecast. Missouri 17, Okla. State 10. Nebraska 33, Kansas State 0.

'WHY ARE YOU HERE'
GANGTOK, Sikkim (AP) — Chinese troops facing Indian soldiers on the frontier of this Indian protectorate high in the Himalayas are asking, with loud-speakers a disturbing question. "Why are you here?" they shout.

Indian officials say this is disturbing because it implies a Chinese claim to territory India has pledged to protect and is reminiscent of Chinese propaganda that preceded the 1962 China-India border war.

LBJ Restless About News Conference
By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is restless about news conferences. He has tried a variety of them, as if looking for one that suits him or as if he doubts any one of them will. Other recent presidents treated them as a kind of institution, whether they liked them or not. But not Johnson, judging from the way he switches them around and the fact that he only holds them now and again.

ference for a surprise announcement, which at times seems the main reason for calling the conference in the first place since not all his conferences sparkle.

For example: It had been known for months that George W. Ball, undersecretary of state, was leaving. This started the usual Washington guessing game which, in this case, lasted for months.

Johnson played mum and the name of Ball's successor was one of the best kept secrets of Johnson's almost three years in the White House. Then he arranged a news conference which was at first billed as simply a news briefing but turned into a news conference.

He announced he had chosen Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach for Ball's place. This was a surprise, since it meant Katzenbach was stepping down a notch (and who would ever have thought of that?), but less of a surprise than the way Johnson chose to reveal this extremely important appointment.

He didn't announce it formally. It was only near the end of the conference, when a reporter happened to ask who'd get Ball's job, that Johnson said it would be Katzenbach.

Yet, the announcement was probably Johnson's main reason for calling the conference since everything else he said was secondary to this news.

At his televised conference Thursday, Johnson switched the technique, rattling off before reporters could ask a question a list of men he had just selected for high government posts at home and abroad.

Again this seemed the main reason for calling the conference. Johnson's answers to most of the questions the reporters finally asked were vague or negative. He made few positive statements.

Detroit Goes After That Buried Ford

DETROIT (AP) — If there's one thing Mrs. Arthur A. Allen likes it's a nice party.

And it's a good thing she does. Some people she has never met have invited half the city of Detroit out to her house Saturday to dig under an apple tree for an old model T Ford that supposedly was buried there 40 years ago.

"I was planning to make coffee. It could turn out to be such a nice party if the people don't get too rambunctious," said Mrs. Allen today.

Mrs. Allen, a mother of four and wife of a police lieutenant, lives on property once owned by a man named Perry Andrews.

Andrews tried to sell his 1913 model T in 1926. Nobody would buy it, so he tried to give it to his son-in-law.

When the son-in-law, William Morris Sr., now 63, said he'd like to have the car but wanted to put a sports body on it, Andrews apparently couldn't bear the thought.

Morris dropped in one day and found Andrews digging the hole.

"He was that kind of guy, he was very sentimental," said Morris.

Morris told the story many times over the years and a couple of months ago Harvey Versteeg of the Detroit Historical Museum heard it. Versteeg happened to be in the market for a cheap 1913 model T and suggested digging it up.

Bud Guest, who has a show on radio station WJR, heard about their plans and asked his listeners to drop by on Saturday and help.

Judging from the response most of them plan to be there.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Treat Phlebitis Promptly To Prevent Disability
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Phlebitis (and closely related thrombophlebitis) is a common but widely misunderstood disease. Essentially, it is an inflammation of a vein, usually in the leg. It may be caused by infection or by slowing of the circulation through the affected vein in persons who are confined to bed for more than a few days. Much disability from phlebitis has been prevented in recent years by getting patients out of bed within a day or two after most operations.

The inflamed vein is tender to touch and the leg is usually swollen. This acute stage subsides in eight to 10 days. It may be followed by complete recovery or by some degree of venous obstruction or varicosity.

As with most diseases, prompt treatment at the onset prevents later complications. A treatment that has saved many persons from surgery is an infusion into the vein of dextran. To give the best results, this must be started within eight hours of the onset. Some doctors give an anticoagulant at the same time but it is not needed if the dextran treatment is started soon enough.

During the acute stage, bed rest for a few days with bathroom privilege is sometimes prescribed. Alternating hot and cold compresses over the tender vein helps to reduce the inflammation. Progressive doctors wrap the leg from the toes to a level above the tender area with a 4-inch elastic-weave roller bandage and get the patient out of bed at once. At night the foot of the bed should be elevated about seven inches.

If the swelling persists after eight to 10 days of this

SEN. EDWARD M. Kennedy, D-Mass., has proposed that 19-year-olds be first in line for the draft, preferably by the lottery system, with only limited deferment. Speaking to the Women's National Democratic Club Oct. 6 in Washington, Sen. Kennedy said the present policy of drafting older men first and granting liberal deferments to younger men produces uncertainty and inequity.

The family of Mrs. Mae Sexton expresses deep appreciation for the many kind expressions of sympathy during their recent bereavement.

Oswald: "It is a classic example. South has nothing to gain by taking the first spade. If he does, he may still make three no-trump but probably will not."

Jim: "If he ducks the first spade West will still be on lead. Mr. Work pointed out that West would be end-played at trick two inasmuch as he would lose a trick irrespective of which suit he led."

Oswald: "The hand is rather complicated for a column. There are plays in all four suits. Thus, if West does lead a spade at trick two South will lead a heart to dummy and lose a diamond finesse. West will lead a third spade to set up two spade tricks for himself. South will be able to take the club finesse for his ninth trick but may try some sort of a heart end play and go down."

Jim: "If West shifts to a club at trick two he will give South a third club for his ninth trick. Similarly a low heart lead will give South a third heart trick. I will always wonder what would happen to South if West led the queen of hearts at trick two."

Oswald: "Milton never considered that play. It was just too much to assume the lead of queen from that holding. Today there are many players who would make that very play and if they did I fear that any declarer would win with the ace, lead a heart back toward dummy for a finesse and lose to the jack of hearts whereupon East would lead a spade and South would be down two tricks."

Yesterday was Egg Day in Hope and the Golden Goodness of Eggs caravan paid a visit and a hard cooked egg was presented to everyone who came by.

The occasion was a tribute to the Egg Industry which produces 113 million eggs in the County annually and this represents an income of over $3 million each year.

The caravan, featuring Kathy Parker, Golden Goodness Girl, visited schools, other places throughout the day here.

Food Chains Cut Prices in Some Areas

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Major supermarket food chains in the greater Chicago area are engaged in price-cutting, and housewives think it's just wonderful.

Jewel Tea Co., which operates supermarkets in five Midwestern states, started lowering prices on nonperishable items in late September and the other food chains quickly followed.

Jewel advertised reductions in prices of 2,327 items, calling them new low "miracle prices." Harry Beckner, vice president and general manager of Jewel, wouldn't call it a price war, saying: "We are simply offering customers a choice of what they will pay for staple items. We feel it is our responsibility to make this choice available to them."

Some sample reductions: A 2-pound can of Royal Jewel coffee for $1.19, previously $1.39; a 29-ounce can of pears for 29 cents, previously 39 cents; a large jar of stuffed olives 44 cents, previously 59 cents; a large can of tomato juice 37 cents, previously 44 cents; a jar of salad dressing 33 cents, previously 39 cents.

Beckner said Jewel deepened price cuts of 10 to 20 per cent in staple items "in anticipation that the bargains would attract additional business. We are going to hold the low prices as long as we can."

Most of the price cuts are in staples such as canned goods and package items that are bought in quantity and held for some time without danger of spoilage.

A & P stores announced in two-page advertisements "scores and scores of prices reduced." The newspaper advertisements also plugged a current prize contest.

Some of the chains also announced reductions in fresh meat prices.

Food chains usually show a profit of 1 to 1 1/2 cents on each dollar of business volume and no one would predict how long the lower prices would hold.

However, figures compiled by the Bureau of Labor statistics show that retail prices of some staples have been higher in Chicago than in any other of the nation's 12 largest cities — apparently allowing some slack for lower prices.

Being a Lord Enjoyable to Birkett

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — Does being a lord really help?

"I enjoy it," replied Lord Birkett, 36, "but my tailor probably charges me more because I'm a lord. Yet, it has its advantages."

With a laugh he added: "It helps in parking lots, and you get a better seat in restaurants and probably better service if they know you've got a title."

Lord Birkett must be one of the few noblemen in the world who belongs to a trade union — the Association of Cinematograph Technicians.

His lordship is also a producer-director of films.

"I joined the union a long time ago," he explained, "after I left Cambridge."

misnomer, as my three years at Trinity College were spent mostly in cinemas."

Young Michael Birkett had no interest in the law, although his father, Baron Birkett, was a successful trial lawyer who became a High Court judge and later a lord justice of appeal.

Michael Birkett succeeded to the title when his father died in 1962.

"When I wasn't going to the cinema at Cambridge," recalled the present lord, "I was acting and producing plays. A rare few intervals were spent going to concerts."

His first professional job in show business was in what was called the production planning department of the nearby Ealing Studios.

After a year or so he was given a job as third director on a picture. The next time it was as second director, and finally first assistant director.

His first venture as a solo-producer was the film version of Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker," which won high critical praise.

Birkett then directed several documentary films. In 1965 he became associated with Joseph Jannl on the production of "Modesty Blaise."

Later he joined forces with Director Peter Brook in a new ambitious undertaking — the film production of the Royal Shakespeare Co.'s presentation of Peter Weiss' controversial London and New York stage hit, abbreviated in popular reference to "Marat-Sade."

Simba Blamed for Ordinance

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Wilson Brown's Simba, a 600-pound African lioness, was responsible for the passage recently in Dallas, Tex., of an ordinance that requires wild animals to be kept in cages.

Now, Simba has turned out to be the first animal in the city's history charged with violating the statute.

Three Dallas policemen hounded Brown a ticket Tuesday when they spied Simba romping around her master's backyard.

A Correction Navigation for Red Advances

The speed with which modern newspapers are put together makes errors inevitable, and the manner of that assembly makes correction of errors impossible even when discovered before the press has started rolling.

In his picture report on Florida's Suwannee River in yesterday's Star your editor made an obvious geographical error while writing the caption under the photo of the Suwannee bridge on U. S. Highway 98. He placed the bridge on the route "from Apalachicola to Perry, Fla.," when, as everyone knows who has visited it, the bridge is between Perry and St. Petersburg. You associate U. S. 98 with the beaches of the north Florida coast, therefore I moved the Suwannee bridge alone and unassisted a couple of hundred miles west of where it actually is.

I caught the error before we went to press, but could do nothing about it — because of our ultra-modern rotary offset press. To make the correction it would have been necessary, (1) to change the original pasteup, (2) shoot a new full-page negative, and (3) make a new press plate from the new negative — an operation which would have thrown the newspaper half an hour late getting to press.

No more than a year ago the error would have been corrected before publication. We were printing with type on a flatbed press. To make a correction required merely the setting of a couple of new lines and exchanging them for the incorrect ones in the page "form" on the press. But this isn't possible with a plate press. You have to back up all the way to the original pasteup. The moral is: Don't make a mistake — you have no more chance to correct it than a radio announcer has of recalling a word once spoken over the air.

The Shreveport Times reports this morning on the progress of the program to make Red River navigable from the confluence with the Mississippi up to Shreveport, and through Twelve-Mile Bayou to the Lake of the Pines and Daingerfield, Texas.

The distance from the Mississippi to Shreveport is 219 miles, and the overall project calls for nine locks at a cost of 15 million dollars each.

This was the plan presented to the Rivers & Harbors Board of the Department of the Army in Washington yesterday by Louisiana's Senator Russell Long.

But I understand on unimpeachable authority that the Red River Valley Association is in trouble on the proposed extension to Daingerfield, and the best guess is that the project will be back, making Shreveport the end of navigation for the present. The extension to Daingerfield will probably fail due to inability to generate enough traffic to justify the federal expenditure that would be required.

That is to say, Daingerfield suffers from the same disability at prevents extension of navigation to Fulton and Denison, Texas, from being considered at the present time.

Post Office Seeks Zip Addresses

Beginning today, letter carriers throughout the Hope area will deliver two cards to every residence, Postmaster Brannan reported.

Each card will have spaces for addresses the householder wishes ZIPPED. (To be added in multi-coded cities: one for the local addresses, the other for out of town.)

After placing their uncoded addresses on the cards, preferably printed legibly, they may be dropped into any letter box or returned to their letter carrier. The Hope Post Office will add the appropriate ZIP Codes and return the cards to the mailer.

"No postage is needed," Mr. Brannan said.

The project is part of Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's program to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public.

In addition to the cards for addresses, a special notice advising each resident of his local ZIP Code number will be delivered.

The cards will carry a message from Postmaster General O'Brien advising that ZIP Code mail helps provide better service.

In completing the cards, only the street address and city and state are required. Individual names need not be listed.

Postmaster Brannan emphasized the importance of including a return address on the front of the cards so they may be returned after addresses have been coded.

Incomplete addresses which are submitted but cannot be ZIP Coded by the local post office, such as those in a city like Washington, D.C., which has the same street names and numbers in the northeast, northwest, southeast and southwest sections, will be sent to the appropriate city and the codes will be added there.

Additional cards are available from your letter carrier or postal delivery station.

Macedonia to Celebrate 97th Year

Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church, Washington, will celebrate the church's 97th year of Christian service Sunday, October 12 through 16.

Also in connection with the program a remodeling stone will be laid by the local mason lodge. Guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. J. W. Spellman, pastor of the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, in Shreveport. The Rev. David Small is pastor of the Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church.

The general public is invited.

Pentecosts Plan Program

There will be two hours of gospel singing at First United Pentecostal Church at 4th and Ferguson Streets on Friday, Oct. 14 starting at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge and everyone is invited, according to the Pastor, the Rev. B. W. Lane.

Housing to Be Discussed at Meeting

PROCLAMATION

For National Business Women's Week:

WHEREAS, Working women constitute 26 million of the Nation's working force and are constantly striving to serve their communities, their states and their nation in civic and cultural programs, and

WHEREAS Major goals of business and professional women are to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, educational, economic and political problems; to help them be of greater service to their community; to further friendship with women throughout the world, and

WHEREAS All of us are proud of their leadership in these many fields of endeavor;

NOW THEREFORE I, John B. Gardner, Jr., Mayor of the City of Hope, by the authority vested in me, do hereby proclaim October 16-22 as

NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK

Sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., and urge all citizens in Hope, all civic and fraternal groups, all educational associations, all news media and other community organizations to join in this salute to working women by encouraging and promoting the celebration of the achievements of all business and professional women as they contribute daily to our economic, civic and cultural purposes.

GE Appears Headed for Big Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The mammoth General Electric Co. appeared headed today toward the biggest strike in its history in a showdown climaxing years of strained labor relations.

The giant firm, with more than $6-billion a year sales of a multitude of products from light bulbs to jet aircraft engines, faces a walkout by some 125,000 workers at 12:01 a.m. Monday.

"There is an explosion brewing here," said a spokesman for 11 unions that have banded together this year for the first time to take on the big firm in contract negotiations.

President Johnson, who named three Cabinet members to try to resolve the tough dispute, is reported ready to invoke an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction to halt a strike because of production vital to the war in Viet Nam.

But union spokesmen president that pent up resentment among union workers would be even worse after the 80 days ran out.

So important is the case to organized labor that President George Meany of the 13.5-million member AFL-CIO is heading a committee advising the unions involved.

Meany reportedly will call a meeting Friday of the chiefs of the 11 unions, led by Paul Jennings, President of the International Union of Electrical Workers. Jennings' union represents 80,000 General Electric workers.

The special White House panel Tuesday curtly brushed aside a company proposal for a voluntary no-strike pledge at defense plants for 60 days and a vote among employees on the company's "final" offer after that.

"We did not think it was responsive to the President's request," said Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, speaking for the panel.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance agreed. Vance is sitting in for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who is in South Viet Nam.

Switchmen Restrained

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Joseph Sam Perry of U.S. District Court early today issued a temporary restraining order halting a strike by the Switchmen's Union of North America against the Rock Island Railroad until Oct. 22.

T.E. Desch, general counsel of the railroad, went to Judge Perry's home in suburban Glen Ellyn to ask the order, a company spokesman said.

The judge's order is effective until a hearing he scheduled for Oct. 22.

Short Skirts Girls Suspended

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Seventy-one Hawthorne Junior High School girls were suspended for a day this week for wearing above-the knee dresses and skirts.

Principal W. Dain Higdon sent the girls home after a "lineup" at the school in the school auditorium.

Higdon said he was enforcing school board rules that classroom dress must be appropriate.

"When three-quarters of their thigh is showing when they sit down, I think that dress is too short," Higdon said.

Wants Campaign Deductions

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Contributions to political campaigns should be allowed to deduct the donation for income tax purposes, the Democratic candidate for Congress from the 4th District said Tuesday night.

David Pryor of Camden told a group of Democratic women that the state and federal government should give the exemption to bring more direct participation and involvement in politics through small financial contributions.

LBJ Plans to Hike SS Benefits by at Least $2.2 Billion

By FRANK CORMIER

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — President Johnson called today for congressional action next year to increase Social Security benefits an average 10 per cent. House Republicans countered with a call for immediate action.

Addressing a Social Security awards ceremony here, Johnson proposed increases totaling at least $2.2 billion a year in benefits to become effective Jan. 1, 1968.

The 10 per cent increase he proposed would average $8.50 a month for each pensioner. He suggested also a minimum monthly check of $100—compared with the present $44—for anyone with 25 years of coverage.

But even as he was speaking, Republican members of the House of Representatives in Washington adopted a resolution saying Congress should not adjourn before acting on the proposal.

It was a game of political one-upmanship with a highly emotional proposal less than a month before the congressional elections.

The Republican resolution commended Johnson for his proposals, but called them "belated action" to offset the effects of increased living costs on the benefits of retired persons.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior minority member of the Ways and Means Committee, said statistics show a "gap" of 7 per cent between income of retired persons and the increase in living costs.

He said the committee could prepare legislation for passage within the next several weeks.

Public Works Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed a compromise $4.1 billion public works appropriation bill Tuesday with includes a new high level U.S. 64 bridge over the Arkansas River at Fort Smith, Ark.

Originally about $3 million worth of alterations was planned for the bridge, but a Senate amendment authorized a new structure, which will cost about $5.5 million.

Accidentally Shot to Death

LONOKE, Ark. (AP)—Deputy Coroner Lee Weaver of Lonoke ruled that Jerry W. Brown, 28, of Lonoke was accidentally killed Tuesday when a 22-caliber rifle discharged in Brown's pickup truck.

Authorities said Brown had gone squirrel hunting.

Weaver said the rifle was found on the floor of the truck with the barrel resting on the seat. Brown was shot in the right side.

Arkansas Killed at Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Cliff Harrell, 39, who moved here from El Dorado about two months ago, was killed Tuesday when he fell from a scaffold on the Western Electric Co. here, where he was working as a pipefitter.

His son, Gary, is a halfback on the University of Arkansas freshman football team.

The administration has pushed strongly for the bill, which passed the House in June. Supporters said it should improve America's position in international balance of payments.

The House has agreed not to take any votes today because a number of its members were to be absent at Columbus Day celebrations.

But Senate-House conferees hoped to finish work during the day on three of the remaining "must" bills — food for peace, the $1.75-billion antipoverty measure and the packaging and labeling bill.

Tuesday Congress sent to Johnson the biggest money bill of the year — the $58-billion defense measure.

Attached to the measure was authority for the President to call up either individual reservists or organized reserve units for duty without declaring a national emergency. The President had not asked for the authority.

Conference agreement was reached on bills that would create a Cabinet department of transportation and give federal agencies new flexible regulatory powers over banks and savings and loan institutions. The measures now go back to both chambers for final action.

U. S. Force in Viet Nam Now 325,000

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara toured quieted battle sectors of South Viet Nam today as 4,000 fresh American combat troops arrived in the country.

The new troops, the last contingent of the 4th Infantry Division, brought the American force in Viet Nam to 325,000 men.

As the buildup continued, ground fighting subsided into small skirmishes. But on the political front dissension flared between northerners and southerners in Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's cabinet. Five civilian ministers from the Mekong Delta were reported threatening to resign.

The 4,000 fresh American combat troops, comprising the "Ivy" Division's 3rd Brigade, began coming ashore from a troopship at Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon. Their arrival brought the division to full strength, making it the fourth complete U.S. Army division in Viet Nam.

In addition to the 325,000 American soldiers in Viet Nam, there are nearly 42,000 troops from five other allied nations and some 705,000 South Vietnamese under arms.

U.S. strength is expected to reach between 370,000 and 400,000 men by the end of this year.

Congress Acts on 21 Major Bills

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for adjournment of Congress before the end of next week mounted today after one of the busiest legislative days of the year.

In a burst of speed Tuesday, the House and Senate acted on many major pieces of legislation.

Leaders have set Oct. 22 as the latest date for adjournment. But after Tuesday's activity, some were saying Oct. 20 looked good. Many members are eager to return home to devote full time to campaigning for the Nov. 8 elections.

The Senate meets today two hours ahead of time to act on one of three remaining appropriations bills — a $406-million District of Columbia measure.

Then it expects to send to President Johnson a compromise $4.1-billion appropriations bill to finance public works projects across the nation.

Next it will turn to a bulky foreign investors tax bill designed to make it more attractive for foreigners to invest in America.

The administration has pushed strongly for the bill, which passed the House in June. Supporters said it should improve America's position in international balance of payments.
